PLAN $7,200,000 IN SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Surgery Holds Hope For Child's Life

A famous heart specialist will attempt next Friday to save the life of a frail, blue-eyed Daly City youngster, victim of a rare heart condition.

It will be the eighth trip into the operating room for four-year-old Bonnie Lynn Steele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Steele of 171 East Vista street.

Sufferers of Bonnie's heart condition, which is known in medical terms as a ventricular septal defect, normally live only to their sixth or eighth year.

Bonnie was born with an opening in the septum, the thick muscular wall dividing the two ventricles or lower chambers of the heart. Because of this opening, the blood flows back and forth between the ventricles and its course out of the heart through the arteries is considerably slowed.

Blood Backtracks

Eventually the blood of the victim begins to run in reverse. No operation has yet been devised, which can save the sufferer's life after this stage has been reached.

Dr. Walton C. Lillehei, University of Minnesota Heart hospital surgeon who will perform the operation on Bonnie next Friday, will attempt to close the septal defect during the lengthy operation. While Dr. Lillehei repairs the opening, blood will be pumped through the child's body with an artificial oxyginator, more commonly known as an artificial heart.

The doctor, who invented the oxyginator, had performed 35 such operations at the time Bonnie was accepted last November. Mortality rate during the operation is 35 per cent.

Heart Stopped

When surgeons attempted to cauterize Bonnie's heart in November, the operation could not be completed because the vital organ stopped beating.

Knowledge that Bonnie was somehow different from her two elder brothers, Michael and Gordon, first came to the Steeles' attention when their daughter was only two weeks old. She ran a consistent high fever and whimpered and cried as if she were in pain.

Shortly thereafter, doctors diagnosed the symptoms. although Bonnie now appears to be as active as a normal child, she is given daily injections of penicillin and streptomycin and requires more rest than the average youngster.

Heart pain is constantly with her.

Expensive Treatment

Treatment of Bonnie's condition has cost high into the thousands of dollars. Steele, special agent for the Home Insurance company, and his wife, Edgewood park playground director, went deep into debt during the first few months of their daughter's illness. Subsequent treatment and operations have been financed through insurance and the Crippled Children's society.

Next Friday's operation will be paid for by the Crippled Children's service, foundation which sponsors the Easter Seal campaign.

WITHOUT FEAR — Bonnie Lynn Steele will enter a Minnesota hospital operating room next Friday at which time Dr. Walton C. Lillehei, famous heart surgeon, will attempt to save the child's life. Sufferers of Bonnie's heart condition, called a ventricular septal defect, normally live only to the sixth to eighth year. Bonnie celebrated her fourth birthday last Friday. The child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Steele of 171 East Vista street, is facing the operation without fear and has a strong will to live, according to her mother.

Westmoor Hi Site Estimate Is Tripled

Architect Mario Ciampi, in a report to the Jefferson Union High school board of trustees Monday night, estimated that cost of Westmoor High school site development will reach $80,939.78. He originally declared two years ago that the total cost would be only $28,000.

It appeared unlikely, however, that trustees would approve proceeding with the full plan offered by Ciampi.

Only portion okayed Monday night was grading of the baseball area. The board authorized the architect to draw up bid specifications for grading the land, which Ciampi estimated would cost the district approximately $4250.

Westmoor Principal Glenn South asked trustees to approve the grading because he hopes to start seeding the area this fall. South also advised the board to consider utilizing school personnel to seed the field rather than contract with an outside firm which Ciampi estimates would cost $10,481.10.

The principal also suggested that the district narrow immediate development cost to $44,286 by ignoring the bus turn around and soil conservation plans at the present time.

Another area in Ciampi's report which is likely to be unacceptable is a $5000 estimate for two baseball backstops. Superintendent Edward Morgan advised that the district could build the backstops at a much cheaper price.

At South's suggestion, trustees agreed to review the architect's cost anaylsis before further discussion at the next board meeting on August 13. Trustees also scheduled a visit to the site on the morning of August 4.

Stanford Researcher Tells Of Five-Year Class Needs

Enrollment in the Jefferson Elementary School district will more than double in the next four years and will require construction of 189 new classrooms by 1961.

The new units, all of which probably will be financed through state Chapter 20 funds, will cost an estimated $7,200,000 over a five-year period.

These startling statistics were brought out Wednesday at the board of trustees meeting by Dr. Maynard Bemis of Stanford, who presented the county-wide continuing school survey which has been in preparation for nearly a year.

Last term's enrollment for the district was 4719. Dr. Bemis said this figure would swell to 9460 by the 1960-61 school year, with bulk of the children, 6560, being enrolled in grades first through sixth.

Pre- Schoolers

He pointed out that these youngsters are now of pre-school age and revealed that children not yet old enough for school top those now attending classes by as much as 145 per cent in some areas.

While 108 classrooms are available in the district now, 297 class units will be needed to handle the pupil influx by 1960-61. Of this total, 220 classrooms will be needed to house the ever-increasing Grades 1-6 bracket.

The researcher broke down the Jefferson district into four separate districts defined approximately as: I—the Crocker area; II—southeast Daly City and Colma; III—South Westlake and Broadmoor; IV—north Westlake.

In the first area, there are only 16.2 per cent more children in the pre-school age bracket than those attending school. In the second area, the pre-school youngsters top those in school by 59 per cent. In Broadmoor and southern portion of Westlake the ratio in favor of the pre-schoolers is 76 per cent, while in the northern Westlake district the youngsters not yet attending school outnumber those in school by a whopping 145 per cent.

District Projects

Dr. Bemis recommended immediate planning of classrooms as follows; District I—Revising plans for Vista Grande school to one kindergarten, 12 classrooms, instead of one kindergarten, six class rooms. He also termed General Pershing school as the district's "least desirable building" and suggested the sub-basement rooms be eliminated as classrooms; District II—Colma school is adequate to handle predicted enrollment through 1960, Dr. Bemis declared; District II—He dscribed this area as the "big problem," and said Olympia's school's one kindergarten, six classrooms, would have to be doubled and the site expanded "some way." As an alternative he said extra classrooms might be added at Westlake school. District IV—In addition to Vista Mar school now in the planning stage, the district will need two new

Curriculum Study At JESD Told

Intensive survey of Jefferson Elementary School district's study curriculum was authorized by the board of trustees Wednesday night.

Dr. William O'Dell of Stanford University explained the program and its coverage and told trustees the entire cost of the year-long study would be about $3500.

Dr. O'Dell said his research group's work would consist of first examining the instructional program and pointing up its weaknesses and deficiencies, and secondly a "follow-up analysis of the results."

At request of trustees, the study group's work will also include evaluation on the efficiency and operation of the school board.

The educator explained that the study would start this fall and the researchers would work in direct conjunction with the administrative and teaching staffs, as well as the school board, throughout the school year.

NO CHANGE IN CURRICULUM AT JEFF HI SCHOOL

Jefferson Union High school district will continue to offer elective courses this next school year despite overload of students and double sessions.

Westmoor Principal Glenn South today refuted a report by a daily peninsula newspaper that trustees voted Monday night to "drop such subjects as art, music and commercial studies so that full time will be available for instruction in basic subjects."

Both Jefferson and Westmoor

DEL PAPE TRIAL SET FOR WEDNESDAY IN SUPERIOR COURT

Ferdinand De Pape, 51, of 21 Parkview avenue, is scheduled to appear in San Francisco superior court on Wednesday for trial on a charge of grand theft.

Del Pape was arrested at his Daly City home May 24 by San Francisco police, who charge that he had been stealing items from his wholesale warehouse employer for 29 years.

Food Handling Law Gets Cool Response From DC

San Mateo county's proposed new uniform health ordinance was greeted with little enthusiasm by the city council Monday night, mainly because, as one councilman put it, "It's just another way for them to get revenue."

County officials were scheduled to be on hand Monday to explain the ordinance, which they are asking each city to adopt.

The officials failed to show, so City Manager Howard Stites gave the council his conception of the proposal.

The ordinance, Stites said, calls for formation of a three-man governing board which would have sole authority on revoking permits for restaurant owners and food handlers. Permits now accused of violating food handling laws are prosecuted by the state, and have opportunity to present their case in court. This three-man board, Stites said, would be made up of two county supervisors, one city councilman.

The second point which Stites said made the ordinance distasteful to Daly City was the plan for the county to levy annual fee for food handling establishments, $10 a year for restaurant owners and $5 for handlers or purveyors.

Stites says the county's argument for the fee is to allow hiring of another sanitarian to inspect food handling establishments. "But Daly City already is paying its share to operate the county health department," explained Stites. He added that the state and federal government also contributed funds for health facilities.

The council's sentiment appeared in opposition to the ordinance, but they said they would hear the arguments direct from the county officials first, then give their answer.

Employees Ask Review Of 'No Pay Hike' Stand

John Walsh, president of the 151-member Daly City Municipal Employees association, Monday night asked the city council to review its decision in upholding recommendation of the personnel board to reject a blanket salary increase.

In an informal poll last Wednesday, the council voted against any salary increases, following a recommendation received that same evening from the city personnel board.

Employees sought a 10 per cent blanket increase.

In rejecting the increase, councilmen, as did the personnel board, pointed to the fact that the employees had already received new fringe benefits which will cost the city some $14,500 annually.

Disability Pay

The benefits include increase in cost of health insurance, liberalization of retirement and full pay for one year in event of disability.

Walsh explained that since his group had been before the personnel board, many other cities had voted salary increases for their employees.

In re-submitting the salary increase request, Walsh said, "If we don't get the raise now, we'll be left like we were two years ago, when the other cities voted pay increaeses, but not Daly City."

The employees' leader also argued that the fringe benefits cited were actually supposed to go in effect six months ago on last year's budget.

Walsh proposed that the council leave pay for starting employees at the same level and allocate

Local attorney JOHN J. FAHEY JR., who last year was kept busy trying to restore local police officer DAVID JOHNSTONE to his job, now is on the other end of the soliciting business.

He's representing a woman who wants to oust SF chief administrative officer THOMAS BROOKS. She, through Fahey, claims he's too old to hold the job.

A local citizen lauded the city council Monday night for the fine recreation program it was presenting at Colma school. What the council and audience apparently didn't note at the time is that the recreation program at Colma is sponsored mainly by the Broadmoor-Colma group, paid for out of school district funds and backed by a PTA and other civic organizations. The city's part of the program is just a coordinated effort with the group working under the community services tax.

Incidentally, director of the program at Colma is RENE HERRERIAS, basketball coach at St. Ignatius and SF prep hoop player of much renown in former years.

Yellow Cab's taxi zone at 6264 Mission street was already being painted Thursday morning when the owner of the business at that address, who had earlier given approval for location of the stand there, protested vigorously.

So the work stopped post haste, and all Yellow Cab has at that location now is a few partially rubbed out smudges of yellow paint.

Rec Chief Job Salary Hike Asked

Because of the slim turnout of applicants during the past several months, Daly City recreation commission voted Tuesday night to readvertise the job of recreation director and recommended to the city manager that a raise in salary be considered.

Commissioners felt that the present salary range, $395 to $481, wasn't high enough to attract top-caliber recreation leaders.

Frank Ingersoll, acting director, reported on progress of the summer program and current improvements. Work has started on Frankfort park, he said, and completion is scheduled in 60 days.

During June 13, 438 children participated in the organized recreation program, Ingersoll said.

Installation of a softball diamond and backstop at Westlake park is nearly completed, the director continued.

The commission accepted resignation of maintenance man Lawrence Lucas.

SSF Window Washer Charged With Rape

A South San Francisco window washer was charged with rape Monday night after Daly City Police Officer Charles Terry spotted the man and a 13-year-old girl parked on Scenic Way in the Crocker hills.

The window washer, William R. Whiddon, 39, of 704 Hemlock avenue, South San Francisco, is being held in the county jail. He was unable to make bail of $1000 cash

500 'Die' Here As Bombs Hit Bay Area

Five hundred persons "died" and extensive "property damage" was suffered in Daly City Friday as devastating hydrogen and atom bombs were dropped at strategic points in the Bay Area, but the city still fared better than most San Mateo county municipalities.

This was the report of City Manager Howard Stites following the Operation Alert civil defense test conducted throughout the Bay Area Friday.

Stites termed the operation here successful, and said it served its purpose in showing the "weak spots" in the community's civil disaster preparedness.

The test showed, the manager said, that Daly City's cummications needs improving, as the city was only able to make contact as of Mission, one between Mission and Junipero Sera, another be-far south as Millbrae, while Belmont was the county control center.

Will be remedied

This will be remedied, he declared, by moving the transmitting equipment to a better location.

Second deficiency, he said, was lack of an adequate control center for receiving messages and dispatching workers. The local police station was used as the nerve center, but Stites explained the narrow congested streets in the area and the routine business which keeps the police station staff occupied combined to make this location less desirable.

He said he is going to propose the Lake Merced firehouse as the temporary control center.

Daly City participated in the drill from 8:07 a.m., when the yellow alert went on, until 12 midnight, after the county and state communications control went into full operation at 6 p.m.

185 Workers

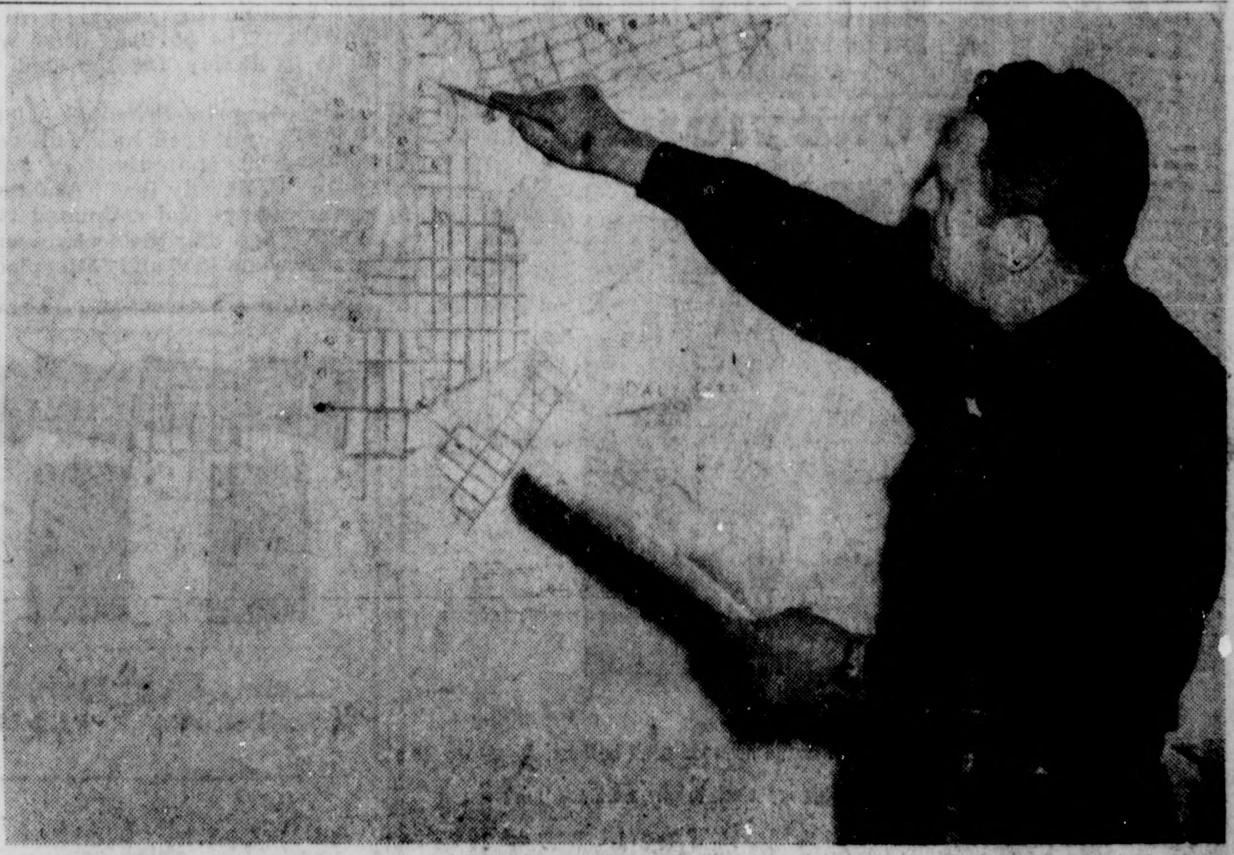
All city department heads, most of the police and firemen, plus the National Guard and Auxiliary Police gave Daly City a total working force of 185 men. Electrician Roy Foster was in charge of the communications.

Message center points and equipment distribution centers were established in four strategic areas, which included a spot east tween Junipero Serra and Westlake, and the last just west of Skyline boulevard.

Workers were dispatched immediately to the city's reservoirs to check "leagage" and practice, emergency measures which would have to be taken to protect the city's water supply.

Hydrogen bombs were dropped at Alameda and Palo Alto, while the atomic missiles were exploded at downtown San Francisco, Richmond, San Francisco Airport, and from a submarine stationed off the coast.

Because of its location, Daly City was comparatively safe from atomic fallout, Stites said, but did suffer property damage and about 500 human casualties. Compared to other cities, he said, this was a low figure.



CENTER OF OPERATIONS of Friday's civil defense alert, the city hall, is here pointed out by Police Traffic Inspector Henry Sundermann. The inspector, who mapped strategy and acted as Daly City communications officer during the state-wide alert, declared that the practice maneuver was a "well worthwhile experience." Although 500 persons were reported "killed" in the disaster, the remainder "escaped" along three routes. Those living east of Mission street fled south on Hillside boulevard to Bayshore, those between Mission and Junipero Serra left via Mission street, and those west of Junipero Serra escaped west on Alemany and south on Skyline.

high schools will continue to offer the five courses of study available last year: general, university, commercial, practical arts and fine arts.

Not a single class has been dropped from the curriculum, South declared.

Changes necessitated by the double session schedule, which were first announced last October, have not been revised. These changes are elimination of the study hall period, cutting the remaining five periods from 53 to 46 minutes, and trimming two minutes off the between-class times.

All students except seniors living west of Junipero Serra boulevard will attend "Westmoor" from 7:45 a.m. until 12 noon. All seniors and pupils living west of Junipero Serra boulevard will attend "Jefferson" between 12:15 and 4:30 p.m.

Both school will operate in the Jeferson High school plant until completion of the Westmoor school.

schools of two kindergartens, 18 classrooms each by 1960.

Yearly Program

Concluding with a summary of suggested building construction, by years, Dr. Bemis called for construction of 1 K plus 12 classrooms at Vista Grande and 1 K plus 12 classrooms at Vista Del Mar in 1957; in 1958 he proposed addition of one K, six classrooms at Olympia, and three new schools, two of 2 K, 18 classrooms, and one of 1 K plus six classrooms. The following year he called for two new schools of 2 K, 18 classrooms each, and one of 2 K, 12 classrooms; 1960 concluded his proposed program with replacement of Gen. Pershing with 1 K plus 10 classes, first unit of a new 10-classroom intermediate school of 2 K plus 12 classes.

estimated five per cent boost; Millbrae, five per cent increase; Burlingame, pay hikes denied; San Mateo, still under consideration; Redwood City, 8.69% boost effective next week; San Carlos, same as Redwood City; and San Bruno, scheduled to decide this week.

Nobody has figured out percentage-wise what the fringe benefits mean to DC employees, but no doubt somebody will come up with the figure when the salary issue sallies forth again.

An official from one city further south, when learning Daly City had rejected salary increases, stormed and fumed, asking a local councilman, "Why didn't you tell us? If we had known you weren't voting any increases we wouldn't have either."

A truly public-spirited official, who obviously acts only in good faith on what's right for the community.

Supervisor THOMAS CALLAN SR. is all riled up over the way taxes have risen in the Jefferson High School district, for which he formerly served as trustee.

He'll probably drop in soon and pay a visit at the superintendent's office.

City Manager HOWARD STITES has been given a one-week vacation by the city council.

He'll leave July 27 to spend one week working with the Boy Scouts at summer camp.

Well, anyway, the council called it a vacation.

Jeff Elementary Hires 10 Teachers

Ten new teachers wereh ired by the Jefferson Elementary School district trustees Wednesday night, but some vacancies still remain to be filled for the fall term, Superintendent H. Z. Weibel reported.

Hired were: Barbara Busetto and Clarabelle Williamson, 6th grade; Bette Caraway, 4th grade; Iola McKeown, 5th grade; and Collene Husted and Alva Mallory, 3rd grade; Carroll Lindsey, special education; Edna Murphy, 7th or 8th grades; Byron Ogden, 7th and 8th vocal music; and Ruth Stone, 7th and 8th grade counselling and guidance at Colma school.

The last teacher named will be compensated at an assistant principal salary of $6000 a year.

Resignations of Sylvia Russell and Gail Nelson were accepted by the board.

Jeff Hi Trustees Accept $5110 Lone Lock Bid

Lone bid on installation of locks at Westmoor High school was accepted Monday night by the Jefferson Union High school board of trustees. The $5110.56 offer was made by Petley, Incorporated, of Oakland.

According to Principal Glenn Glenn South, each lock will cost the district approximately $330. South declared that Architect Mario Ciampi had estimated two months' ago that the locks would cost between $290 and $325 apiece.

City Employees Ask Review Of Council Stand Vs. Pay Hike

"Can't Get Help"

City Manager Howard Stites replied that the council had raised pay for starting employees because of the inability to get help under the present low scale.

"Then this backs up our argument to raise other salaries to a higher level to keep your good personnel," Walsh countered.

Councilman Sanford Vickers cited the fact that the city would be spending another additional $10,000 for wages this year because they had shortened the working week for firemen seven hours, necessitating hiring of two more employees.

Councilman Paul Hupf asked Walsh if it weren't true that a job survey was conducted here by the state two years ago and that certain job changes and salary increases were recommended and approved.

Walsh said this was true for salary only, not on job classification.

"Wasn't the city brought into line on wages then?" continued Hupf.

"Yes," said Walsh, "But in our survey we've found numerous other cities making salary studies and recommending higher levels of pay."

The council did not vote formally on rejection of pay increases, and tentatively set August 24 for the budget hearing, at which time the salary increases will be accepted or rejected.

Grand Jury Indicts Ruano, Companion

The San Francisco grand jury Tuesday voted indictments against John (Midge) Ruano, 41, and Jack R. Oliver, 26, for robbery and assault with intent to commit murder.

Jury members reviewed a series of holdups in San Francisco and a waging gun battle with area police on Skyline boulevard in a chase down Skyline boulevard before making their decision.

The pair had escaped from a San Quentin road camp before coming to the bay area. They were captured in Arizona.

Ruano was convicted five years ago for his part in the Daly City slaying of Bookie Martin Breslauer.

ATTORNEY ASKS DC VOTE REGISTRATION CAMPAIGN FOR NOV.

Attorney David Friedenberg, 62 Como, appealed to the city council Monday night to launch an extensive campaign to register voters in time for the November elections.

Pointing out that other California cities were organizing nonpartisan registration drives, Friedenberg urged that a committee be established which could make recommendations for "getting publicity and taking positive action to aid registration."

Mayor Joseph Verducci said Friedenberg's proposal would be taken up at the next study session.

ANOTHER DC FIRM KNOCKS SALES TAX

"A detriment to all the business at the top of the hill," is the latest description of the one-cent sales tax to be received by the city council via the mail.

In a letter to city fathers Monday, Daly City Drug urged a negative vote on a municipal sales tax, charging the tax had "no basis," would be a "detriment" and would pose "too much of a burden" on all businessmen.

The council has been swamped with letters in opposition to the sales tax, and has also heard protests against it by persons appearing at the meetings.

County Tax Rate To Drop 3 Cents

While San Mateo county's 13 cities were either holding or raising tax rates right down the line, the county this week announced the astounding news that the basic tax rate will drop three cents.

Controller Ira A. Boynton said Tuesday that the current tax rate of $1.59 per $100 assessed valuation will probably be reduced to $1.56.2.

The slash will come, Boynton said, despite the fact that the board of supervisors has adopted a record $19,244,730 budget, a fat increase of $2,555,673 over last year.

This marks the first time since 1953 that the county levy has not taken a substantial hike.

Earlier this year county officials were almost unanimous in the prediction that the tax rate would rise.

The tax cut is largely due to increased assessments and higher revenues, Boynton said.

BANK HOLDUP IS STILL UNDER INVESTIGATION

Westlake Bank of America holdup in which aheavyweight gunman escaped last Tuesday with $1725 was still under investigation today by Daly City police and Federal Bureau of Investigation agents.

Ex-convict Raymond Bassett, whos name appeared on a check left behind by the gunman, is still a suspect although Teller Dorothy Mendonsa was unable to make identification from a police mug shot. Bassett, wanted for parole violation by Stockton law enforcement officers, is still at large.

The bandit entered the Westlake bank shortly past 1 p.m. and waited patiently in line at Mrs. Mendonsa's window. When she looked up, the teller saw the muzzle of a gun protruding from a hole in a gray sock.

A note reading "Be calm and I won't shoot. Give me your twenties, tens and five" was handed over by the gunman.

Mrs. Mendonsa, 90 Forest Grove drive, reached for the cash, and the robber crammed it in his pocket and walked from the bank and out of sight.

He was described as in his early 30's, over 6 feet tall and weighing about 225 pounds. Mrs. Mendonsa said he was of extremely fair complexion and wore a heavy silver wedding band studded with several diamonds.

Pastor Asks Jeff To Sell 'Surplus' Land

Request by a Westlake minister that the Jefferson Union High school district offer "surplus" land for sale was taken under consideration by the board of trustees Monday night.

The Reverend Charles R. Christian of the Westlake Lutheran church explained that his suggestion was being made in order that he might obtain land for a church. He declared that the church has been unable to purchase land from Henry Doelger Inc. despite the fact that there are immediate funds available.

The past first asked that two or three acres be put up for sale, but later stated that a smaller acreage would be acceptable.

Trustees are expected to take action on the matter at their next board meeting, August 13. In the meantime, the Reverend Christian was asked by Superintendent Edward Morgan to submit his request in writing.

Youth, 18, Enters Not Guilty Plea To Burglary

An 18-year-old San Francisco youth pleaded not guilty in municipal court yesterday to a charge of stealing a watch and ring valued at $98.50, from a Daly City home.

Preliminary hearing for Norman T. Russell, 418 Broderick street, San Francisco, is scheduled for next Thursday.

The articles were reported stolen last week from the residence of Lelan T. Sparks, 153 Santa Barbara avenue. Russell, who was booked on a burglary count, is being held in the county jail in lieu of $500-$1000 bail.

MONEY AND THE MUNI COURT

Daly City may not be getting its just share of municipal court revenue.

Councilman Del Wilson has long contended that the ratio of money returned to Daly City in comparison with other northern San Mateo county cities has been inequitable. His plaint has received little attention, mainly in light of an explanation of the "inequity" given by the League of California Cities, which said the percentage taken out of cities' fines and forfeitures was based on the city's judicial costs prior to establishment of the muni court in 1952.

So far this year Daly City, with 6469 total citations issued, has received $22,038.08, the court withholding 24 per cent.

South San Francisco, with only 4736 citations, got back $36,301.34, as the court only withheld 12 per cent of its fines and forfeitures revenues.

There is no definite ratio between citations issued and money taken in, because some of the fines are only $1 bail forfeitures for parking violations, while others may run as high as $500 for drunk driving violations.

Nevertheless, when Daly City, with almost 2000 citations more than South San Francisco, gets back some $14,000 less than that city, something is out of kilter.

The court also explains that because Daly City has so many more citations to handle, the cost for administering justice for the city is higher—therefore the higher percentage is withheld from Daly City.

By this reasoning, a city would be penalized for strict enforcement of the law. Instead of receiving more revenue by strict police surveillance, a city would receive less because it had posed an added "burden" on the court.

And when the muncipal court jurisdiction took over, Daly City actually suffered an increased burden because of the distance both police and citizens have to travel. Expenses and time of individual citizens can't be computed exactly, but the loss of time and gas expenses to the city's police department can be added up—and it amounts to a lot of money over a period of one year.

Where the municipal court was supposed to streamline the dispensing of justice, it may have actually increased the City of Daly City's out-of-pocket expenses.

While doing so, it has in effect penalized the city for being too business-like in the enforcement of its municipal law.

So the City of Daly City takes the beating from both ends.

PROPERTY TAXES HIT NEW HIGH IN S. M. COUNTY

Property tax levies in San Mateo county hit a new high of $36,056,191 for the year just completed, California Taxpayers' association reported today.

Included in the total levy on property in the county were $8,436,773 in general county levy, $6,257,167 levies on property by the cities in the county, $18,709,743 in levies for the school districts in the county, and $2,652,508 in levies for the special districts in the county.

Total tax levy on property by the local governments in the county for fiscal 1954-55 was $30,836,366 the association found.

In 1949-50, the total levy on property in the county was $15,920,513.

State-wide, taxes levied on property for the local governments reached a high of $1,268,249,343 for fiscal 1955-56, continuing unabated the upward trend which started from the wartime low of $320,353,435 in fiscal 1943-44.

The $1,268,249,343 total levy for fiscal 1955 includes $447,787,480 in general county levies, $186,670,642 in levies for the cities throughout the state, $526,824,237 in levies for public school districts, and $106,966,984 in levies for special districts in California.

Total levy on property throughout California for fiscal 1954-55 reached $1,137,648,584. For fiscal 1949-50 it was $725,618,585.

"The size of the taxes levied on property for 1956-57 will reflect directly the budget decisions currently being made by local governing boards in the individual communities," the Taxpayers' association said.

"If the upward swing of tax levies on property is to be turned downward, the amounts local governments—counties, cities, school districts, special districts—plan to spend this coming year must be held in check," the state-wide Taxpayers' association declared.

Something For Everyone

By The Staff of the Daly City Public Library

Tension is a factor in more than fifty per cent of all illnesses, according to a recent medical announcement. The part that tension plays in illness has not been fully appreciated until the last few years, but it is now recognized as one of the important causes of illness.

All this is by way of pointing out that August 2 to 8 is National Relaxation Week, a week set aside by the National Relaxation Committee for the relaxation of aching muscles and tired bodies. To call attention to this week and the importance of relaxation, the Daly City Public Library is featuring a number of books on the art of relaxing, along with a group of books that should be diverting reading and conducive to relaxation.

One of the most recent books on this important subject is Samuel W. Gutwirth's HOW TO FREE YOURSELF FROM NERVOUS TENSION. The favorite in this field is David H. Fink's RELEASE FROM NERVOUS TENSION, closely followed by that author's newest book, FOR PEOPLE UNDER PRESSURE. RELAX AND LIVE, by Joseph Kennedy, a retired Warrant Officer who has taught relaxation to hundreds of businessmen, tells how to release one muscle at a time.

Pressures Today

Selma G. Hirsh's THE FEARS MEN LIVE BY outlines many of the pressures responsible for tension in modern living, thereby helping the reader to understand more clearly what his problems really are. THE CONQUEST OF FEAR, by Basil King, an older book, still has valuable suggestions for present-day readers. Dr. Smiley Blanton's LOVE OR PERISH, a current best-seller, ties in very well with this same idea.

AYORAMA, by Raymond de Coccola and Paul King, should be especially relaxing reading for the summer. It is the story of the Eskimos who live along the northern fringe of Canada, as told by de Coccola, who spent twelve years among them as a missionary.

A more or less aimless account of the slow journey of historical novelist Jay Williams from Connecticut to Majorca is the subject of A CHANGE OF CLIMATE. Williams decided that Majorca was the place to live and he and his family set out for it. But they took their time getting there. Reading this can be as relaxing as the Williams' trip.

On Earlier Days

Two recent books on earlier days in California have especially captured the interest of the local readers: Elisabeth Margo's TAMING THE FORTY NINER, the story of the effect of women on the Gold Rush days; and Oscar Lewis' BAY WINDOW BOHEMIA, about San Francisco at the turn of the century. Other recommended books for relaxing reading are Oliver La Farge's BEHIND THE MOUNTAINS, about the part of the Sangre de Cristo range in New Mexico where the author's wife spent her early years among the Indians and Spanish New Mexicans, and Emily Kimbrough's SO NEAR AND YET SO FAR, about her travels in Louisiana.

These are only a few of the books of current interest available at the Daly City Public Library, 6351 Mission Street, or the Westlake-Broadmoor Branch Library, 34 Park Plaza drive. For further information or to reserve books in which you are interested, call either library. Remember, your public library has something for everyone!

Police Cite Jitney Driver In Accident

A Northgate Transit company driver was cited Sunday when his jitney rammed into a parked car on Hillcrest drive at Mission street.

Police cited Alfonso Portillo Ocon, 26, of 240 Clipper street, San Francisco, for driving over the center line and having no chauffeur's license.

A woman passenger in the jitney, Mrs. Helen Becco, 16, of San Francisco, was injured in the crash. She was treated at Junipero Serra hospital for body cuts and bruises.

Officers said the accident occurred when the jitney swung over the center line to round the Mission-Hillcrest corner. The damaged parked auto was registered to Tony Lucia, 52, of 337 Santa Barbara avenue.

EAGLES CORNER

FOE

By Dell Fehl

Due to vacation time and an illness this column has been absent from THE RECORD—and we hope missed—for several weeks. Every attempt will now be made to give members the run-down on the latest news and happenings within the Aerie.

We especially want to call attention to the number one topic of discussion which is the sixth annual picnic on August 26.

A letter to every member of the Aerie is forthcoming shortly, but here are a few of the highlights.

Every adult will be charged $1, and friends, neighbors and relatives are invited with all children being admitted free. Beer, ice cream, soda and games shall be free throughout the entire day. Free dancing begins at 1 p.m.

Tickets and further information may be gained by calling Secretary Charles Maschinot, JU 7-4024, or Dell Fehl, PL 5-0504.

In the first of the Aerie semi-annual bowling tournaments, held Sunday, July 22, a turnout of over 30 participants was welcomed, with twice as many spectators.

Winning trophies were presented to the following: Don Giffin, men's open champ; Leslie Grisel, women's open champ; Erich Diebel, men's novice champ, and Jean Blankenhorn, women's novice champ.

Giffin, the Aerie champion, rolled a four-game series of 827. Al Wright and Vince Merlo gave Don a tough fight to the wire, Wright obtaining second with a 815 and Merlo a 804.

The softball team now rates second division with two wins and five losses. We sure do need talent here.

Frank Lister, the old pro of fishing, broke all records last Saturday with a total of 85 pounds of bass for three fish. Just try to find out his fishing spot though!

Herm Kalinin is giving C. Cofield a rough go to hit the top spot in the S. D. club.

HONOR GUESTS at last Thursday's Chamber of Commerce luncheon were seven Daly City beauties. Here Chamber Executive Secretary Peter Markovich, surrounded by feminine pulchritude, displays the trophy awarded to Miss Daly City Rosalind Reinstra (right of Markovich). Shown here are Janet Watson, last year's Miss Daly City; Barbara Broome, attendant; Judy Weld, Miss San Francisco; Markovich; Miss Reinstra; and attendants Sandra Gonzales, Betty Lou Green and Nancy Anne Young. School District To Ask Insurance Bids

Following the policy recently adopted by Daly City, Jefferson Elementary Schol district board of trustees Wednesday night ruled that district insurance should be let out for competitive bid.

Policy has been to award contract to the North San Mateo County Insurance Agents association, represented by Peter Markovich, servicing broker.

Considering renewal of a contract for $4692.78 with the agents association, Trustee Hartley Appleton declared, "Our system of giving this to a group because it's local is unsound. We should go to bid."

"If somebody else can show us appreciable savings, I think we should take their offer," Appleton continued.

Appleton moved that Albert Bender Co. be allowed to conduct a survey here on the district's insurance needs. His motion won unanimous approval, although Trustee Joseph Lewkowitz said he would only aprpove the action if Markovich would be notifed and given a similar opportunity to examine the district's insurance needs.

TWO-HOUR LIMIT ON PARKING SET FOR THREE AREAS

Two-hour parking at three sectors in Daly City was approved by the council Monday night.

At request of Fireside Thrift, Junipero Serra boulevard and Knowles avenue, two-hour parking limit was established on Knowles avenue from Junipero Serra to Niantic. The time limit will be in effect for both sides of the street.

Motion establishing two-hour parking for this area was amended to include Brunswick street between Wellington avenue and Hillside boulevard.

The council established by resolution the two hour limit on Acton street, from the county line to Brunswick street.

In other traffic matters, the council received petition forwarded by George Calgari asking that a motorcycle officer be assigned to Hillside boulevard.

City Manager Howard Stites said patrolling on Hillside had been increased, but "we haven't completely solved the problem yet."

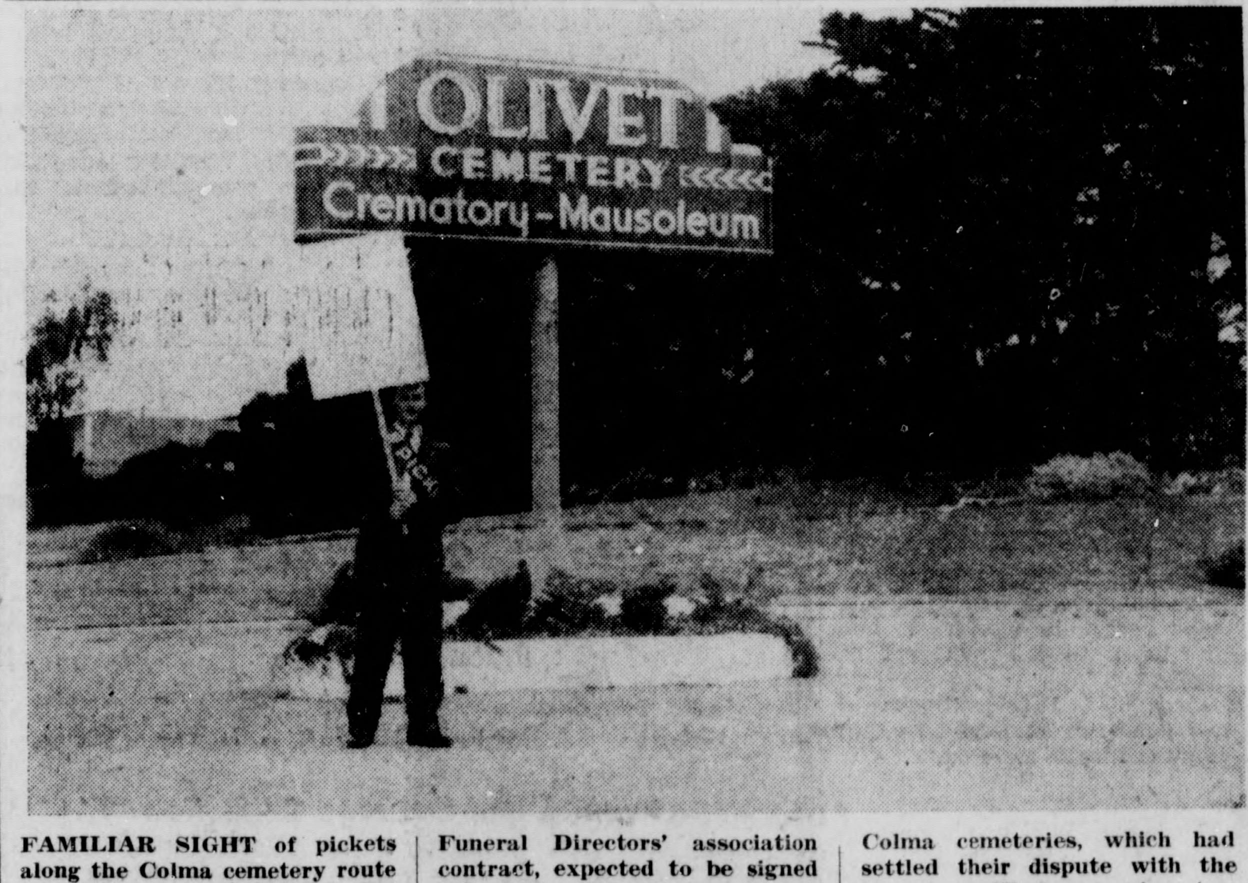
Commercial Zoning Hearing Date Set

Hearing on rezoning three lots in Knowles tract and one in Vista Grande subdivision was set for August 13 by the city council Monday night.

Applicant seeks to rezone Lots 12, 14 and 15, Block 2, Knowles Tract, and Lot 1, Block 30, Vista Grande, from R-3 (multiple dwelling) to C-1 (light commercial).

In other planning matters Monday, the council granted use permit to Gateway Chevrolet for used car parking lot at the southeast corner of First and Market street; closed hearing on Chester street vacation; set hearing July 31 before planning commission on application for variance at James Walton home site, 108 Knowles avenue; ordered abatement of nuisance at 6732, but gave owners 30 days in which to rehabilitate the structure there.

At request of Sanford Vickers, the traffic inspector was directed to study need for an arterial stop sign at Bismark and Hillside, which Vickers said would cut down some on speeding violations.



FAMILIAR SIGHT of pickets along the Colma cemetery route was due to be erased this Friday following ratification of a new embalmers union-San Francisco Funeral Directors' association contract, expected to be signed last night. The 65-day-old embalmers strike had caused the renewed picketing of five of 11 Colma cemeteries, which had settled their dispute with the Cemetery Workers union two weeks ago. THE RECORD photo

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

Since "All the King's Men," the latest Abbott-Abrams production to play weekends at the Theater Arts Colony is about a politician you might think that it is primarily a political play. If you don't delve too far below the surface, you'd probably be right, as it is based on the life of a well-known political figure, named Willie Stark in the play, who became governor of his state and as close to being a dictator as any American has before or since.

But it is more than just another play about another politician and what he did with his power when he got it and what his power did to him and in the end how he got his comeuppance.

Strong Man

It's essentially a tragedy because Willie is a man like other men. He isn't good or bad; he is good and bad. And this quality of goodness or badness changes, depending upon who is looking at him and when. Watching him, it is even possible to be aware of both sides of the coin at the same time and be torn between hatred for the one side and pity for the other.

Because Willie didn't set out to become what he was at the final curtain. You might even say that Willie was something of an idealist in the beginning, even though a pretty stupid, hick-town version of an idealist, and it was his betrayal by the smart boys that changed him into what they were. Then he went them one better.

We've dwelt upon Willie because "King's Men" is his play and its strength stands or falls upon the producers' choice for Willie. In Fred Stuthman, Abbott-Abrams found a strong man. His deep, resonant voice is ideal for the role, and as Willie changes, so does Stuthman, from an awkward, shambling hick to a purposeful, slick politician who knows where he's going, but can't understand why he is cut down midway in his journey.

Amazing Ingenuity

He has good support from a large cast, particularly Ken Letner and Craig Hampton who indulge in verbal gymnastics on the subject of Willie; Barbara Franger, as the woman who could forgive Willie anything, except his returning to his wife; and Bob Martens as the seemingly incorruptible Judge Irwin.

The ingenuity of this little theater group never ceases to amaze us as they struggle valiantly to surmount the limitations of a small stage and a small budge by skillful use of lighting and stage settings.

There are just two things we wish they'd do: date their programs, that won't cost a penny; do something about that sound equipment, that will cost a pretty penny.

Six Transformers To Supply Power For GOP Convention

Six General Electric transformers—enough to serve total electric power needs for a community of 4,000 persons—are being installed by Pacific Gas & Electric Co. in the Cow Palace here for the August 20-23 Republican national convention.

The 500 kilowatt units represent six times the normal load usually required in the one acre building. The huge increase in electric power is needed primarily for adequate lighting, ventilation and communications equipment for the 2,646 delegates and alternates, 950 members of the working press and the 16,500 other technicians, guests and commercial people who will be present.

But adequacy of power supply is not enough. Extensive precautions also are being made to avoid any possibility of power interruptions. For instance, two independent power supply lines will be used. One of them is a 12,000 volt overhead line and the other is an underground 12,000 volt circuit. While both circuits will work together, one line can handle the power load for special lighting, television, radio and other communications equipment if the other one goes out.

Much of the power will be needed in the 49,000 square feet devoted to press, telephone, telegraph and photographic operations. The communications facilities include 2,000 telephone lines, 200 radio outlets, 355 teletypewriter machines and 20 new telephoto circuits. A total of 4,231 representatives from communications media will report the news and operate the maze of complex equipment from the Cow Palace.

TV and Radio

By Mona Baker

(An exclusive interview by Mona Baker with James Day, General Manager of KQED.)

Approximately three months ago KQED launched a six-county sponsorship campaign to raise $127,500 for operating expenses for the fiscal year which began this month. The goal included new viewer memberships totaling $45,000 and contributions from business and industry $82,500. We decided to visit the office of KQED to learn firsthand how successful the drive had been.

We talked with James Day, KQED's General Manager who said "The results of the campaign to raise operating expenses for the fiscal year (July 1-June 30, 1957) have been disappointing. The failure of the campaign to reach its goal leaves us with a potential deficit for the year. We must therefore renew our efforts to enlist member subscribers. We haven't given the kind of coverage that we would like in your area (the areas covered by the TIMES and THE RECORD) but we have every hope that this can be remedied within the next six months. Since this involves additional expense we need additional support."

¼ of Goal

So we learned that the drive that started so hopefully three months ago had grinded to a stop with only one fourth of the goal achieved. We can't help but ask . . . why? Have we, the community, failed KQED? Certainly KQED hasn't failed us. We have only to recall the outstanding awards that the station has earned this year . . . the coveted George Foster Peabody Award, "the top achievement in the television and radio industry," which was bestowed upon the station just three months ago for "outstanding meritorious local public service by television." . . . Five awards from the Northern California Academy of Television. We must remember the increased number of hours added to the broadcasting week . . . a good percentage of these devoted to fine children's programs . . . an audience of 266,000 homes which was reported by a special citizens committee appointed to study KQED.

Done Its Part

So we must conclude that KQED has done its part. The station has the audience and has produced outstanding programs for all ages and interests. But funds have not come in. In recent auction conducted by the station only $12,000 was raised which is less than a month's operating expense.

At the start of the campaign, Dr. J. Paul Leonard, chairman of KQED's board of directors, said if the campaign was successful it is believed that KQED can become self-supporting on the basis of viewer financial support within three years. This can be done if the community comes to KQED's support. Too often all of us are prone to take everything for granted . . . let's not take KQED for granted . . . every contribution helps, and multiplied by the total population of the six Bay Area counties . . . a contribution or membership from only a small percentage will support the station. Why not drop your check in the mail today to KQED, San Francisco . . . and let KQED know that our community has failed them.

Youth, Caught After 95-mph Chase, Says Not Guilty To Theft

Not guilty plea was entered Tuesday in municipal court by a 20-year-old Daly City youth who was charged Saturday with felony auto theft after a 95-mile-an-hour police chase through three cities.

Preliminary hearing for Richard Van Meter, 198 Bismark street, is scheduled for Tuesday.

Van Meter and a 16-year-old Daly City companion were arrested at 2:20 a.m. Saturday morning after they were trapped in San Francisco by converging patrol cars of three cities.

Chain of events began when Broadmoor police received a report of a stolen car from Thomas C. Gilliland, who had parked his auto in front of the Stumble Inn on Hillside boulevard.

Shortly thereafter South San Francisco officers spotted the car on Chestnut avenue and gave chase. The pursuit moved north on Hillside boulevard into Daly City, where local officers joined the chase.

As the speeding autos entered San Francisco, that city's officers also entered the pursuit, finally trapping the fugitives at Mission and Army streets.

New Water Pump Will End $40 A Day Payments To S. F.

Peerless Pumps was yesterday awarded contract to furnish and install a deep well turbine pump at Westlake which will furnish Daly City with 1000 gallons of water a minute.

Peerless' bid, $5550.56, was low of four submitted.

The well, located at the end of Fairlawn court, will enable Daly City to pump sufficient water so that further purchase of water from City of San Francisco can be eliminated.

At present the city is spending $40 a day for San Francisco water because pumping has been inadequate to meet the demand in certain portions of Westlake.

Installation of the well will take 30 days.

JEFF HI POOL COST IS DOUBLE GATE RECEIPTS—ESTIMATE

Cost of maintaining the Jefferson Union High school swimming pool is probably double what the district gains in gate receipts, it was estimated Monday night by Superintendent Edward Morgan.

In a report to the board of trustees, Morgan explained that 1955 gate receipts of $10,836.84 exceeded salary cost by only $715.07. To the $9121.77 paid out in instructor's salaries must be added maintenance, equipment and other costs.

Presentation of the study was in conjunction with the superintendent's suggestion that the district utilize five-cent community services (recreation) tax proceeds towards maintaining the pool. Approximately $30,000 will be derived from the tax if it is given final approval by the board.

SF MAN BOOKED ON CHARGE OF BEATING DC EX-GIRLFRIEND

A 26-year-old San Francisco man is awaiting trial on August 7 on a charge of beating his ex-girl friend in Daly City last week.

The San Franciscan, Fred Ivanhoe, 254 Waller street, was booked here earlier this week on charges of assault and battery and disturbing the peace. He is now free on $100 bail.

Complaint against Ivanhoe was signed by the alleged victim, Gladys Khinoo, 18, of 115 Templeton avenue. The girl claims that Ivanhoe appeared at her home, dragged her out into the street and severely beat her.

STILL TIME FOR FLORAL ENTRIES IN SM COUNTY FIESTA

With the opening of the 22nd annual San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta less than two weeks away, amateur flower growers were advised that there is still space for a few entries in flower arrangements, cut flowers and potted plants. Fiesta dates are August 3 through 11.

"Applications for amateur entries must be received at the Fiesta office by twelve noon, Monday, July 30," Mrs. T. G. Gibson, general chairman of the amateur floriculture committee, said today. "But entries should be made immediately or the desired section may be closed. One more model garden space is still available to a peninsula garden club."

In both arrangements and specimen flowers, she explained, entries may be made in classes where exhibits remain in place for either the first five days or the closing four days of the Fiesta.

Boy, 6, Reported In Good Condition After Bike Mishap

A six-year-old Colma boy was hospitalized Tuesday after he drove his bicycle in front of a moving auto on Hillside boulevard near Chester street.

Curtis Rezendes, 570 Clark street, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Rezendes, was treated at Junipero Serra hospital for multiple fractures of the right leg, cuts about the face and mild concussion. He was still hospitalized yesterday, but attendants said his condition was good.

Driver of the car, Angelo L. Andruccioli, 30, of San Francisco, told California Highway Patrol that he did not see the boy pass in front of his car until it was too late to stop. Andruccioli was not cited.

YELLOW CAB GETS STANDS AT W'LAKE, SCHOOL ST. SITES

Yellow Cab stands at Town and Country market in Westlake and the Silver Moon tavern, 212 School street, near Broadmoor, were accepted by the city council Monday night, while a third location at 6264 Mission was turned down at request of the occupant of the business at that address.

Jack Shaver of Daly City Cigar store asked that his earlier approval of application to operate a stand there be revoked, as he claimed the "issue was not presented clearly" at time application was made.

John Pettit, assistant to the president of Yellow Cab Co., said the six taxis would start operation as soon as possible.

SCRAP TWO-STORY FRANKLIN ADDITION

Plans for a two-story 8-classroom addition to Benjamin Franklin school were scrapped by Jefferson Elementary School district board of trustees Wednesday in favor of a ground level extension that would include seven classrooms.

Tentative plans for the seven new units were approved by the board.

Poultry Worker Charged With Molesting Child

A local poultry worker is scheduled to appear in municipal court next Tuesday on a charge of molesting a teenage girl here last Thursday night.

Antonio Marquez, 27, of 6207B Mission street, is now free of $500 bail. He was booked at the city jail following his apprehension by a citizen who said he witnessed the incident on Crocker avenue.

No Protests Lodged On City Assessment

City council sat as the board of equalization for the second time Tuesday, but there were no oral or written protests to city property assessments.

The board adjourned again to August 13 at 7:45 p.m. for what will probably be the final hearing on assessments.

Districts Will Get Low DC Water Rate

Ordinance providing for lower water rates to government agencies was adopted by the city council Monday night and will take effect in 30 days.

The new law will reduce cost of purchasing Daly City water about 30 per cent for local school districts and the sanitation district.

ESTIMATE 15c JEFF ELEMENTARY TAX RATE BOOST

Homeowners in the Jefferson elementary school district will pay an estimated additional 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation this year over the 1955-56 rate of $2.14. Total rate this year will be $2.29.

Bond interest and redemption rate will be 40 cents per $100 assessed valuation, according to an estimate released by County Controller William Boynton. Revenue gained through this tax will be used to repay $147,660 worth of local bonds.

Last year the district bond rate was 32.7 cents, 7.3 cents lower than the 1956-57 estimate.

A rise of 7.7 cents is seen in the $2,003,672 general budget, with the tax rate increasing from last year's $1.81.3 to $1.89. According to Assistant Superintendent David Shapiro, the boost is due to the addition this year of two cents towards non-certificated retirement and of six cents towards certificated personnel retirement. Both rates are now compulsory under state law.

Taking $3000 as the average assessed valuation in the area, taxpayers will pay $68.70 in taxes this year to the Jefferson elementary district. This is a rise of $4.50 over last year's figure of $64.20.

Drunk Driving Charge, 5 Citations, Lodged Against DC Plumber

A drunk driving charge was lodged Monday evening against a local plumber following an auto collision at Acton and Brunswick streets. The driver, George Herbert Buttle, 50, of 226 Crocker avenue, was also issued five citations.

Officer Charles Terry arrived on the scene to find Buttle's pickup truck and an auto registered to Thelma McArthur of 1810 Church avenue, San Mateo. He said that neither car was damaged.

Richard Cafferata of 195 Lowell street, San Francisco, was holding Buttle until the arrival of police, Terry said.

Following a positive sobriety test at Junipero Serra hospital, Buttle was booked at the Daly City police station. He was later released on $500 bail and is scheduled to appear in municipal court on Thursday.

Citations included the following: noisy mufflers, no front license plate, broken left headlight, two broken windshields and no rear view mirror.

Drunk Driver Fined $158 In Muni Court

Robert F. Ehrman of Burlingame was found guilty of drunk driving in Daly City July 16 and was fined $158 yesterday by Judge J. A. Branson, sitting on the municipal court bench while Judge Thomas L. Bocci is on vacation.

George Buttle, 226 Crocker avenue, charged with drunk driving and five counts of defective vehicle equipment on March 16, had his case continued to August 2.

CALLER MAKES TWO THREATS ON LIFE OF LIBRARY OFFICIAL

Wayne Carr, chairman of the Daly City library commission, twice last weekend received telephone calls in which a man threatened to kill him and his family.

Carr, 531 Hillside boulevard, told police he knew of no reason why the threats were made.

Ralph's, Realtors Tie In 11-11 Softball Battle

One of the most dramatic finishes to any softball game was performed Tuesday night in the Daly City Recreation softball league as the Wm. Lagomarsino Realty was overtaken in the last frame by Ralph's to gain a 11-11 deadlock.

The tie game will be re-played to determine the winner. Ralph's were down 11-7 when they started their rally to come back from sure defeat, and then in their bottom half of the seventh inning threw out the winning run at the plate to preserve the tie. The Lagomarsino club performed like real defending champs as they came to life in the third inning and pushed across four big runs to go into the lead.

For Lagomarsino the big sticker was J. Silacci, the big first baseman, with three for four while Rick Warne had four hits in five bats.

Perhaps the major upset of the league occurred this week as a very agressive, young Shannon team downed the league leading Ralph's Cleaners, 8-4. The winners performed without equal both at bat and in the field, while Ralph's played their worst game of the year.

The Shannon team was not to be denied as they jumped to an early lead scoring three runs in the very first frame, and another three run outburst when it looked as if Ralph's would close the gap in the seventh.

The pitching was erractic as the two chuckers issued 20 walks and hit three batters. The losers had the edge in hits, 6-3, but cannot connect with the men on the bases.

For the winners the big punch was provided by Tom Cloutier while the losers Warne was the leading batter. Both men had 2 hits in 4 at bats.

The league goes into its final stages with only the playoffs and the championship games to be played. As it is now any team could win.

Cops Book SF Woman At Local City Jail

A 31-year-old San Francsico woman was booked at the city jail Friday morning after police said they found her on Garibaldi and Mission streets.

The woman, Maureen M. Walsh, factory worker of 131 Albion street, San Francisco, had been drinking, was minus her shoes and was in a disheveled condition, officers said.

Miss Walsh was ordered released when sober.

Cops Arrest Painter On Drunk Count Here

A 52-year-old painter was charged with being drunk in a public place Saturday night after police received a complaint from a local bar.

George E. Meyers of 46 Willits street, was released later on $10 cash bail. He was arrested in front of the Westlake lounge following a complaint from that establishment.

Westlaker Tanned, Trained After Two Weeks Active Duty

Sergeant First Class Howard M. Strauss of 32 Brooklawn avenue returned home on Sunday tanned and trained after two weeks of active duty with the 305th logistical command at Camp Roberts, Calif.

Colonel James S. Hughes, commanding officer of the local Army Reserve unit and in instructor at City College of San Francisco in civilian life, stated that the 305th's sixth successive summer training session this year was its most successful one to date.

A combat exercise in the setting-up and moving of a supply and maintenance area, complete with (flour-bag) bombings and night raiders, was held during the 305th's second week at camp. Additional training at Camp Roberts included firing on the carbine transition range and participation in a command post exercise on the logistical support of an invasion army.

The unit now returns to its year-round schedule of Tuesday evening meetings at Building 913 of the Presidio, where it will be joined by a group of new recruits who received separate basic training at Camp Roberts during the two-week period.

'Plan & Build Guild' Parties To Gain Funds

Next week the "Plan and Build Guild" of St. Martin's Episcopal church, 94 Palmdale avenue, Westlake, will hold the first in a series of card parties for an evening of fellowship and to raise funds for construction of the new church which will be erected at the intersection of Bradley avenue and Southgate avenue in Westlake.

The card parties which will feature games of bridge, canasta and samba, will be held next Tuesday evening at the homes of the following members: Mr. and Mrs. K. Bradshaw, Parkmerced; Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Stansfield, Westlake; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Mattison, Broadmoor; Mr. and Mrs. Don Piercy, Westlake; and Mr. and Mrs. U. R. Kendree, Westlake.

Committee members who are planning the event include Mesdames Richard Phillips, Kendree, Frank Blum and Walter F. Michels.

Sportsmen Eye Check Scheduled For Tuesday

A team of vision specialists from the San Mateo County Optometric society will screen more than 30 members of the Coastside Sportsmen's club for minimum visual abilities essential for safety in handling firearms, at the regular meeting of the club at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the firehouse at Sharp Park.

Arrangements for the safety screening were made by Ury P. Afansief of 330 Oliver street, Daly City, secretary of the sportsmen's club.

The screenings are given by the Optometric society without charge to members of sportsmen's and rifle clubs in the county, as part of the society's hunter safety public service program.

Screenings including checks for color blindness, the ability to see at a distance, field of view and depth perception.

St. Martin's Women Start Plans Early For Yule Bazaar

Committee chairmen of St. Martin's Women's Auxiliary met last week at the home of the president, Mrs. Gordon Andrews, 75 Fairway drive, Westlake, to formulate plans for the annual bazaar, "Christmas Tree Lane" which will be held this year on December 1. Because last year's bazaar was so successful, the group plan to enlarge the benefit affair with more merchandise and gifts available.

Mrs. K. W. Brugge, 515 Lake Vista avenue, and Mrs. Chester S. Mattison, 1775 Sweetwood drive are co-chairmen of the event, and they are assisted by the following Mesdames: W. J. Fitzpatrick, Mervyn Stang, Fred Brown, Gerald A. Ritter, D. R. Wainwright, Seth Miller, Gordon Andrews, Gordon Raeside Jr., Arthur H. Craner, Joseph Bonavito, Stanley Meyer, Glenhall Taylor Jr., Donald S. Piercy, Delie Waugh, John Ellis, Frank Specht Jr., Robert Abbott, Heinz Apostel, and Richard Phillips, and Miss Toni Michels. Mrs. Merrill Barringer will be in charge of posters.

JESD Valuation Set At $38,661,973

Total assessed valuation of the Jefferson Elementary School district is $38,661,973, Superintendent H. Z. Weibel told the school board Wednesday night.

He said this figure compared favorably with other major districts in San Mateo county.

Church To Hail Centennial At Top O' Hill Festivities

"Inspired by the editorial comments of THE RECORD," the festival committee of the OLPH Parish announced today that their September Top O' the Hill Festival will be dedicated to a celebration of San Mateo County's Centennial year.

The festival committee has extended an invitation to all of Daly City to help make this Centennial celebration a memorable occasion and to make Daly City, "the Gateway of the Peninsula," a real leader in this birthday celebration of the county of which wer are all so proud."

"The idea of celebrating this important birthday seems to have inspired the festival committee and many plans are in the air all to be announced in the near future," the church group said.

The O.L.P.H. Festival—Top O' the Hill, will take place on the weekend of September 21, 22 and 23, in the school auditorium on Wellington street.

Miss Shirley Creighton Is Engaged

Engagement of Miss Shirley Creighton to Harry Kramer was announced last weekend by Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Creighton, the bride-to-be's parents, on their 25th wedding anniversary.

Scene of the announcement was a cocktail party and buffet dinner at The Sisters estate in Marin county. Also feting their 25th year of marriage were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Delwig.

The Kramer-Creighton wedding is planned for February. Miss Creighton is a 1952 Jefferson Union High school graduate, while her fiance is a graduate of Sacred Heart. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kramer of San Francisco.

WHITE MASS TO BE CELEBRATED IN SF

A White Mass, the first celebrated in the San Francisco Catholic archdiocese, has been announced by Archbishop John J. Mitty for Sunday, September 30 at 9 a.m. at St. Mary's Cathedral.

All Catholic members of the medical, dental, pharmaceutical, nursing and public health professions are invited to participate with their family and friends.

Arrangements for group participation can be made by writing or calling Mrs. T. J. O'Toole, 355 Colon street, San Francisco or George Tainter, 1805 Irving street, San Francisco.

Idea for the event grew out of a joint meeting of the Catholic Nurses association and the Cosmas Damian Guild, a pharmacists' organization. Rev. Bernard Cronin is moderator of both groups.

Breakfast after the White Mass will be served in Phelan Hall at the University of San Francisco. Dr. Paul Wienholz will be the speaker.

WHAT'S DOING

Phone calls go "piggy-back" riding

Pretty soon now, many local telephone calls are going to start riding "piggy-back." They'll go one on top the other, as many as four separate calls at the same time on the same telephone line. This means one line will do the work of four. And, of course, that means more and better service to more people. For many years, "piggy-back" systems have been speeding your long distance calls. Now we've discovered how to use the same kind of equipment for local calls. This is an example of how telephone people work to develop new and better equipment. The men and women of Pacific Telephone work to make your telephone more useful every day.

Don't miss the fun . . . Telephone ahead for reservations!

Planning a spur of the moment weekend trip? Maybe with an eye on that cabin by the lake? You'll want to make sure you have just the right accommodations: the cabin you want, your favorite boat, the works. And the best way to do that is to phone ahead for reservations. You're sure of a confirmation, right on the spot. It costs so little and gives you so much peace of mind. Makes your whole trip more fun.

World Wide Telephone Book Library

Want to talk to somebody in Cochabamba or Bucaramonga—or maybe only Cucamonga?

There are two women in San Francisco who will arrange it—and they'll even supply the phone book containing the right number.

The pair with their fingertips on the whole globe are Mrs. Esther Winfield and Mrs. Mabel Gonzales. They are supervisor's clerks in the world-wide directory office of the company at 444 Bush Street.

Their office, comfortably equipped with tables and leather upholstered furniture, contains nearly 900 telephone directories with listings of everything from Afghanistan to Zanzibar.

In fact, the variety is so great that some of the books are unintelligible to them. But it's no problem as long as the customer knows what he's looking for.

Most of the books—717 to be specific—are for exchanges in the United States. Alongside of cities like New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Los Angeles, you will find Okmulgee, Oklahoma; Redwing, Minnesota; Framingham, Massachusetts; and Paducah, Kentucky.

The foreign directories number 153. Their covers bear such familiar names as London, Paris and Rome—as well as more exotic points such as Oamaru in New Zealand; Cochabamba, Bolivia; and Bucaramonga, Colombia.

South America and Honolulu vie for top honors on overseas calls, followed by Canada, England, France and Italy, according to Mrs. Gonzales.

The girls had some difficulty with calls to South America until they bought a Spanish dictionary. "I'm even beginning to learn a few words of the language," said Mrs. Gonzales. "I know that 'abogado' means 'lawyer'." But she admits that she is still taken aback by "Republica Argentina, Ministerio de Communicaciones, Telefonos Del Estado," which is the title on the Argentine directory, and "Riks Tefon Katalogen, Stockholmsdelen Abounentforteckning" on the Stockholm book.

BEN FRANKLIN'S 9 CLASSES MAY OPEN IN SEPTEMBER

Architect Mario Ciampi told Jefferson Elementary School district board of trustees Wednesday night that Contractor E. H. Moore was "making every effort" to complete nine classrooms at Benjamin Franklin school by September 1 in time to avert extension of double sessions for about 300 children.

He said the central wing of nine classrooms was proceeding only slightly behind schedule despite the carpenters strike, and that the second wing of seven classrooms might be finished two weeks after the initial units were done September 1.

SCHOOL BUILDER ISSUES CALL FOR MORE CARPENTERS

Contractor E. H. Moore, who is constructing the additional classrooms at Benjamin Franklin school needed by September 10 to avert extension of double sessions, this week issued a call for more carpenters.

Fred Johnstone, superintendent for the contractor, said today, "We'd put on 50 carpenters if we could get them. Since the strike ended they're all busy."

He said some of the workers on Ben Franklin did not return to the job when the strike ended having taken other employment where interim agreements were in effect.

Right now, he said there are only 10 carpenters on the job, all of them working double time.

Twenty one classrooms are under construction and nine of these are nearing completion, but the strike threw work two weeks off schedule.

If the nine classrooms are completed, the Jefferson Elementary School district will be able to eliminate double sessions this fall. Should there be a delay in completing the structures, some 300 youngsters will have to continue on the split schedule.

SUMMONS

No. 72475

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SAN MATEO

JACK T. KING,
Plaintiff,
vs.
LOIS L. KING,
Defendant.

The People of the State of California Send Greetings to LOIS L. KING.

You are hereby directed to appear and answer the complaint in an action entitled as above, brought against you in the Superior Court of the County of San Mateo, State of California, within ten days after the service on you of this summons, if served within said county, or within thirty days if served elsewhere.

It is sought by said complaint to have the following described real property situated in the County of San Mateo, State of California, partitioned:

Lots 12 and 13 in Block 84, as described on the map entitled "MAP OF SUBDIVISION NO. 6 BELMONT COUNTRY CLUB PROPERTIES, BELMONT", which map was filed in the office of the Recorder of the County of San Mateo, State of California on Dec. 14, 1925 in Book 13 of Maps at Pages 12, 13, and 14.

And you are hereby notified that unless you appear and answer as above required the plaintiff will take judgment for the partition of the real property hereinbefore described, as well as any money or damages demanded in the complaint and for all costs of any kind whatsoever incurred in said partition proceeding, including attorneys' fees, and for any other relief demanded in the complaint, including, but not limited to, a sale of the real property hereinabove described if it appears that a partition cannot be made without great prejudice to the parties.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Superior Court of the County of San Mateo, State of California, this 9th day of July 1956.

SLOW-MOVING train was derailed and a 61-year-old brakeman injured Monday when police said a flat-bed truck failed in its attempt to beat the train across the tracks on Railroad avenue and School street. Officers reported that driver of the [illegible], of San Francisco, proceeded across the tracks despite the warning signal. Caboose of the train rammed into the flatbed of the truck, impact of which sent the brakeman hurtling to the ground. The brakeman, Earl H. King, 61, of Burlingame, is now confined to Southern Pacific hospital with a broken hip. The accident is still under investigation by police. No citations have yet been issued.

Rockets Win As Fair Tightens Up With Sacks Jammed

The hustling Westlake Rockets rallied, then held on, for an 8-6 victory over San Bruno Lions Saturday on the latter's diamond. It was the local's second win in four starts.

The Rockets found themselves behind, 4-1, as early as the second inning, when San Bruno exploded for four runs on three hits and two walks. The third frame found the Rockets scoring two runs on a walk to Mike Kennedy, Skip Crudo's single and a two run single by Mike Wills.

In the fourth inning the Rockets iced the game with a five-run uprising putting them in the lead, 8-4. A pair of two-run doubles were delivered by John Junglas and Ross Holmgren.

San Bruno came back with single runs in fourth and fifth innings to up the score to eight to six and set the stage for the seventh inning climax. The Lions opened the finale frame with a walk, a hit and an error, to fill the bases with no one out. Rocket pitcher, Phill Fair, bore down and forced the next three hitters to pop out meekly to the infield.

Fair went all the way for the Rockets, giving up seven hits and six walks while striking out six.

Next Saturday the Westlake Rockets travel to South San Francisco. Game time is 10:30 a.m.

Donati Dismissal Move Denied; Bookie Suspect Enters Innocent Plea

Motions to quash and motions to dismiss charges of bookmaking and conspiracy against Dino Donati of Daly City were denied Monday by Superior Judge Murray Draper and August 13 was established as date for setting trial.

Donati, 36-year-old pinball machine distributor who lives here at 19 Castlemont, is represented by Attorney James MacInnis.

After Draper turned down MacInnis efforts to throw the case out, Donati entered plea of not guilty to both charges.

WESTLAKE'S SKLAVOS GETS 35 LB. SALMON

Although salmon trolling continued to be somewhat slow and uncertain, a sportsman, Sam Sklavos, residing at 95 Fairway drive, Daly City, managed to get himself a winner by landing a 35-pounder off Bodega Head Thursday from the party-boat "Telephone" with Captain Chris Springer out of Bodega Bay. "Dusty" Rhods of the Bayview Marine Station, Bodega Bay, did the weighing in of the fish.

This angler will be presented with a Schenley Sportsmen's Club Award Certificate and a Harnell Black Spun-Glass Tubular Rod in recognition of his skill and sportsmanship in taking this salmon.

Seven Seas Lure Kids To DC Rec Bay Excursion

Marchbanks Park
By Leslie Linhares and Bobbie Carroll

The call of the seven seas lured a large group of children to the San Francisco Bay Excursion. On board ship these hearty sailors showed off their sea legs and there was nary a sign of sea sickness. All hands were on deck as we passed the stark, desolate Alcatraz Prison and then sailed under the Golden Gate Bridge. Several Foreign ships drew a great deal of attention. After docking, our sailors visited Aquatic Park and the Maritime Museum. Some of our able seamen were Bob Rankin, Rosemary Stabeal, Rich Balletto, George Ambrosio, and Theresa and Yodie Tarango.

Lincoln Park
By Mike Sibitz

Henry Anduha, Don Thomas, and Lillyan Tremarole took first honors in the recent coloring contest in their respective age groups. Second awards went to Diane Snow, Kathleen Butcher, and Carla Boggoio while Bill McKinney, John Sievert, and Jimmie Campbell won third. Ribbons were awarded to all winners.

Sign-ups are now being taken for the annual checker tournament. George Rodriquez, last years champ, will again vie for the championship. Ray Valencia and Paul Molina practice daily so that they can really give George a battle.

Edgewood Park
By Terry Steele

The record "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea" was played and enjoyed by the enthusiastic group of listeners on Thursday. This first time event met with a great deal of success and the youngsters have asked and have been promised more of the same.

The checker tournament was held with a great deal of children participating. Among these were: Champion Jimmy Wildman of the 8 year old group, Champion Diane Caruso of the 9 year olds, and Jimmy Caruso of the 12 year olders. Ping-pong is now the rage with all youngsters vieing for the table. A contest will be held in the near future.

Community Center
By Bill Mendosa and Mary Comstock

Our Tuesday and Thursday morning tumbling program is continuing to attract many new faces with over 25 boys now participating regularly. The boxing program is also meeting with a great deal of success and more boys are requested to participate. Skills as well as actual boxing are being presented with all possible protection being provided with trained personnel handling this activity. Tournaments will be held as soon as the youngsters show competency and confidence in handling themselves in these various activities.

Archery
By Helen Paris

The main event of the week's archery program was a balloon shoot held at the various playgrounds. This feat, which is a difficult one for many archers is held in first place by Timothy Pinelli of Westlake park with nine balloons. A close second is Mike Rovai of Jefferson with a score of 7. Third place is held by Mike Blum also of Jefferson with Steve Eiden, Ronald Goldman, and Jerry Benedetti tied for fourth place with a score of four. A few of our sharpshooters include Larry Day, Larry Cox, Skipper Smith, Tom Asaro, Petter Tobin, Bob Saldera, Douglas Bradford, and John Crowhurst. Watch for the final scores of the Animal shoot which will be held next week.

Movies
By Rich Watso

Another week of the current summer movie program has passed with over 600 children and adults enjoying the movies. The favorite among the children is the Warner Brother Cartoons. The favorite characters in order, and at present, are Bugs Bunny, Porky Pig, and Daffy Duck.

Next week James Stewart and Jeff Chandler will entertain the children and adults in the full length color feature "Broken Arrow."

Arts and Crafts
By Jim Hough, Dot Chase and Robert Taylor

During the past week the children who participated in the arts and crafts program had opportunities to work with construction paper in making miniature houses, trees, and cut-outs. Painting ceramic figurines and plaques was also a very popular project. In the coming weeks the children will be given the opportunity to make belts and bracelets, as well as key chains and lanyards from pyrolace. We will soon be making papier mache animals, and masks.

Seals Duo Draws 150 Youngsters At Baseball Clinic

San Francisco Seal Baseball Players Russ Kemmerer and Don Lennhardt headlined the Daly City recreation department and Jefferson Elementary School district's baseball clinic which was held at Marchbanks park Friday.

The clinic, part of the summer athletic program, gave the young enthusiasts' of 150 strong a chance to learn the fine points of hitting, fielding, throwing, and other aspects of the sport. Kemmerer is a hurler for the local nine while Lennhardt cavorts in the outfield.

As a supplement to the clinic and a culmination of the program, approximately the same number of children and adults were guests of the S. F. Baseball club in their game with the Los Angeles Angels Friday night.

"Many thanks are in order to Lennhardt and Kemmerer for their fine cooperation in making the clinic a success and to the community members and parents of Daly City and the surrounding areas in aiding with the transportation of these youngsters to the bal park," the recreation department said.

Skateland 'Target' For Village Children

Skateland-at-the-Beach will be target point for this week's outing by youngsters enrolled in the Garden Village summer recreation program.

Children and adult chaperones will assemble at the lower parking area of the school at 1 p.m., Friday, drive to the rink, and return at 4 p.m.

Elman Rose, program director, advises children to take along a minimum of 35 cents for admission and clamp skate rental. "Canvas shoes cannot be used with clamp skates," Rose warned, "and those who plan to rent skate shoes will have to bring an extra 40 cents for shoe skate rental."

The outing will be limited to children 8 years and older. Younger children, however, will be accepted if they are accompanied by a parent or a brother or sister 11 years or older.

DON LENNHARDT, San Francisco Seals outfielder, shows some of the finer points of baseball to some of the 150 youngsters who gathered at Marchbanks park Friday for baseball clinic, sponsored by Daly City recreation department and Jefferson Elementary School district community services tax financed program. Also on hand to offer a few "lessons" in the art of pitching was Seals chucker Russ Kemmerer.

BRISBANE CAGERS STILL UNBEATEN; RAP GOLDS, 47-38

Another fine defensive game highlighted the second week of the newly formed Daly City basketball league as the undefeated Brisbane five downed a fired up Daly City Gold team, 47-38.

The Daly City team was unable to combat the very effective fast break displayed by Brisbane in the second half of play. To make matters worse for the losers they were unable to connect on the free throws, as they hit only 2 for 11 throughout the game.

The Brisbane team put on a fine exhibition of a fast break. It was a well rounded team effort headed by Ray Vuillemainroy with a 14 point total and a fine job on both backboards.

For the losers John Hammerback and Gordon Johnson scored 14, 12 in that order and also turn in a fine effort in a losing cause.

A very much outmanned Daly City Rocket team was taken into camp this week by the Colma Lions, 57-11. Playing without two starters the Daly City team was never really in the game. The Colma team put up a very strong defense which the losers could not solve. Only Tim Curtin could manage any points from the floor as he hit for eight.

For the winners all the men on the team turn in a fine job with Mike Laskoff scoring 18 and Jim Olsen hitting 16.

200 Compete In Junior Olympics

Two hundred village children skipped, kicked and ran their way to prize ribbons when Garden Village school playground last week conducted its Junior Olympics. Another hundred watched the youngsters vie for the honors.

Five events were held for each age group, with separate divisions for boys and girls. At the culmination of the sportsfest, ribbon awards were presented to first, second and third place winners.

For the big event, adult supervision was furnished by the following volunteer officials: Mrs. Michael Orlich, Mrs. Arthur Shanoian, Mrs. Daniel Kass, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Cohen, and Gus Sigafrus.

The Olympics were conducted in conjunction with the current 10-week recreation program at Garden Village school.

ST. CLARE TALKS AT GV GATHERING

Bob St. Clair, San Francisco 49'ers well-known tackle, will share some of his secrets with area youngsters at the Garden Village school playground Wednesday, Aug. 1, at 10:30 a.m.

At that time, St. Clair, pinup guy of many a local midget gridder, will headline the Garden Village football clinic and teach the fundamentals of passing, catching, running, line play and other gridiron tactics. For good measure, he will sign autographs for his fans.

The clinic is part of the 10-week summer recreation program under way at Garden Village, Sponsored by the Jefferson Elementary school district, the James L. Snell PTA and local homeowners, the program features athletics, arts and crafts, social and folk dancing, outings and other activities designed to keep the neighborhood small fry busy during the vacation months.

Michael Orlich, PTA recreation chairman, is coordinator, and Elman Rose, director of the program.

SHELL JEWELRY TO BE HIGHLIGHTED IN ARTS, CRAFTS

Shell jewelry, utilizing shells gathered by children during their recent beach outing, will be highlighted during the week's arts and crafts sessions at Garden Village school.

For those who returned empty-handed from the beach, block printing projects will be available, according to Alice Overstreet, arts and crafts supervisor.

As another sidelight of the program, children 8 years and under will be guided in the construction of spool and wood objects. In addition, activities for this age group will include painting, sewing, papier mache work and paper construction.

Due to the large number of children attending the crafts sessions, program officials are in need of wood scraps and empty spools which residents may care to give away. These may be turned over to any of the playground supervisors during the week.

Terry Christman, Former Broadmoor Player, To Return

Terry Christman, 12-year-old former pitching star with the Broadmoor Yanks hardball nine, will return next month with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Christman to their home at 971 Foothill drive after a year's stay in Bakersfield.

Continuing his baseball activities in the southland, young Christman was named the "all-star" player on a championship club in the Junior Baseball association that won 15 of 16 games.

Terry served as first string pitcher for his team, and filled in at first base when not working on the mound.

Young Christman's club will vie in a play-off with four other league champs in Bakersfield and the winner of the elimination will play the All Stars July 31 in Sam Lynn ball park, Bakersfield, home of the Bakersfield Boosters of the California league.

Terry's father coached Broadmoor teams for four successive years, but is only a spectator now in Bakersfield. He is expected to resume his coaching activities on his return here.

The family is expected to arrive here August 3.

SOFTBALL STARS CLOUT PRACTICE OPPONENTS, 15-5

Joe Rossio's softball stars, flush with a 22-11 victory in the opening game of the Garden Village midget softball league, last week clouted Jean Luttringer's boys, 15-5, in a practice game played at the school diamond. Outstanding performances were turned in by the winning team's captain, Bob and Dick South, Jean Luttringer and Irv Ekowitz.

Earlier during the week, the young softball artists were herded by playground officials to Orange Park for the baseball clinic conducted by a San Francisco newspaper.

League games at Garden Village will be resumed this week, with clashes scheduled Tuesdays and Thursdays, at 10:30 a.m.

The softball league is part of the 10-week summer recreation program being sponsored at Garden Village school by the Jefferson Elementary school district, the James L. Snell PTA and local homeowners. The playground is open five and a half days a week to area youngsters who want to participate in any of the program's many and varied activities.

Wah Hoppen? Pisa Nine Drops 2 Over Weekend

Two bad innings, the second inning on Saturday, and the third on Sunday cost the Dante's New Pisa Juniors their eight-game win streak last weekend. After winning eight in a row, the Daly City lads made five errors that were combined with six hits in the second inning at Orange Memorial park on Saturday to give the South San Francisco Optimists a lead that held for the rest of the game and a 10-5 victory.

The Optimists scored two more in the sixth after the New Pisa's sixth error prolonged that frame. The New Pisa's started fast in the first with two runs, made another in the third and two in the fifth for the final score of 10 to 5.

Playing at Marchbanks on Sunday against a bigger Columbia Park Boy's club team, they dropped four runs in the third with only one run earned after another costly error, to lose, 4-1. Facing a 16 year old pitcher who held them to one hit, they put together their only run in the fourth with a walk and stolen base, and two infield outs. Reese fanned six, walked seven, but was tough in the clutches, and the New Pisa batting averages fell.

Vacations were another factor, for several of the regulars were away. The final game before the playoffs in the recreation league will be played by the Dante kids at Aptos playground next Saturday. The team will lay off on Sunday.

THE RECORD SPORTS

WESTLAKE PLANS SOFTBALL LOOP; DIAMOND READY

Sign-ups for softball teams were sought today as final touches were put on the new Westlake park softball diamond.

Schedules will be posted as soon as final team selections are made, according to Harry Aronson, park director.

Four varied tournaments are now being planned at Westlake park, with play to be held in two divisions—junior and senior. Juniors will include boys and girls from 8 to 12 years old, while seniors will be made up of youngsters from 13 to 16 years old.

Tournaments, which will include table tennis, paddle pool, checkers and chess, will be of the ladder-type competiton, with any player eligible to challenge the competitor directly above him on the ladder.

At present John McKenna is table tennis leader, but Durward Miley, Eddy Berg, Sonny Sarro and Bill Cassidy threaten to dethrone him.

New faces make their appearance at the park daily. Among the fairer sex turning out are Paulette Penna, Sandra Sarubbi, Harriette Richter, Linda Kerr, Sandy Rudorfer, Jo Anna McCarthy and Sharon Murphy.

Boys participating daily in the activities include Jim Albrecht, Graham Knox, Michael Schwab, Billy Vince, Dennis Cassidy, Jim and John Sarro. Albrecht is presently the top paddle pool player.

At Westlake school playground, leader Jane Kennedy reports that 65 boys and girls participated in the annual penny carnival held last week at Marchbanks park. Raymond and Sharon Ciaidella, Barry Wilson and Sandra Bizzo were among those attending.

Kenny Solari, John Eiler and Robert Ritter are pacing the paddle-pool competition.

COPS, SHERIFFS TO HOLD PISTOL SHOOT

San Mateo County Sheriffs and Police pistol team will conduct a shoot Sunday at the Ray Ottoboni Range in Colma.

Firing will start at 10 a.m. on the Camp Perry course.

Looking over the low-priced three?
compare the performance!
Special features put FORD first in performance...three big awards prove it!
A new record at Indianapolis Speedway (An average speed of 107.126 m.p.h. for a full five hundred miles) . . . The Manufacturer's Trophy at Daytona Beach (Top award winner for all-around stock car performance)... Class A Award in Mobilgas Economy Run (greatest ton-miles per gallon)
There is no other car in the low-priced field that comes near to equaling these performance records. Because no other in the low-priced three gives you such performance, handling and riding features as:
1. Highest Torque V-8 Engine in the field. Ford gives you faster acceleration, power when you need it—even more than comptitor's extra-cost "power packs!"
2. 15% easier steering. Tests prove that Ford is up to 15% easier to steer than its nearest competitor. All bearings are precision, anti-friction type to make driving far less tiring.
3. Ball-joint suspension with wide-base control arms for better steering, more stabilized wheel alignment.
4. 3 Forward Speeds with Ford-o-matic—provides greater flexibility, better down-hill braking. Other automatic drives in low-priced field have only 2 forward speeds.
These are only some of the many fine car features that you get in Ford
